MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

My congratulations to all the members of this year's graduating class! You have achieved an important milestone in your journey towards your chosen career, and justified the confidence of family, friends, and teachers in your ability to succeed.

From my own experience, I know that success is sometimes accompanied by uncertainty about the true nature of one's abilities or the value of one's accomplishments. Yes, the new graduate may be tempted to say, I have passed all my courses, and yes, I have a degree—but do I really have what it takes to succeed in my chosen profession, especially when there are thousands of others with similar qualifications who may be competing with me for the same jobs?

Such doubts are perfectly understandable, especially at a time of recession and widespread economic uncertainty. Yet I would encourage you all to be optimistic about your future. You do have what it takes to succeed. Your education at UBC Okanagan has given you a priceless advantage by giving you the skills and knowledge that will single you out and lift you above the crowd. You have developed the critical and analytical abilities needed to think strategically, to look at the world in new and original ways, and to find solutions where others see only problems.

Statistics show that post-secondary education is a key factor in personal and career advancement, even at times of economic difficulty. On the material level, it has been calculated that the possession of a degree brings university graduates much greater lifetime earnings than their counterparts who did not pursue higher education. A degree is not a ticket to an easy job—one must earn one's salary in any position—but at the same time, your degree from one of the country's best universities will open doors and create opportunities for you to advance in your chosen field.

So regardless of the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead, don't allow yourself to settle for something less than the goals you have set for yourself. Remember that in your time at UBC Okanagan you have acquired skills and knowledge that give you real advantages. Be confident in your own abilities. Keep working towards your objectives, and remember the words of Henry David Thoreau: "Success usually comes to those who are too busy to be looking for it."

Sarah Morgan-Silvester
Chancellor

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A threshold is a piece of wood or stone placed at the base of a doorway. The act of stepping over it signals that you have left one place in time and space and entered another. The word “threshold” also refers to the starting point for a new experience or way of being, a boundary beyond which exists a radically different state of affairs. For the graduating students of UBC Okanagan, today is a threshold day. You may wonder if you are ready. It is my privilege to remind you that you are.

If you look behind you – not in distance but in time – you will see another day like this one in your past: the day you arrived. The day you chose this place, and this path, a rite of passage that few undertake. You are here today, possessed of knowledge and skills—and new aspects of your very self—that only that particular passage can confer. Today’s ceremony marks the end of a long and rigorous preparation, and the beginning of all that you have prepared for: service, contribution, responsibility, discovery, dreams made real.

Eleanor Roosevelt said, “You must do the thing you think you cannot do.” Alice in Wonderland’s Queen in fact recommended six impossible things before breakfast. You know now that you can do impossible things, because you have done them. And every one has taken you across a threshold from “I wish” to “I can:” rising at dawn to make your way to the field for practice; teaching your first class; speaking your first words in a new language, or your ancestral one; seeing the meeting place between economics and ecology; finding a lifelong friend in a packed lecture hall; writing three exams in a day; singing an aria; trading social time for the study hall again and again. Discovering the world in a single particle. Discovering parts of yourself you didn’t know were there until you were called upon to read, to speak, to speak out, to serve ... to change.

And I expect this experience has changed you. I hope so. Whether you knew it or not on that threshold day in your past, you came here to change—your self and your future and all its possibilities. So now you number among the more than 250,000 artists, educators and entrepreneurs, parliamentarians and opera singers, architects, doctors and journalists who call UBC their alma mater. You have acquired critical tools and professional skills, the ability to develop and communicate your ideas and an understanding of other communities and cultures that will enable you to do even more of what others consider impossible: to seek solutions, to lead the way, to change the future.

I hope you will look on your time here with pleasure, and that you will make UBC a part of your future in some small way. You will always be welcome here, and we look forward to hearing about your personal and professional achievements as you build on the foundation provided by your UBC degree.

Before you cross this threshold today, I would ask you to remember for a moment the person you were when you first arrived, and say thank you. You said yes then to a future you could hardly imagine, and today you have arrived at its beginning. Let me thank you, too: for your contribution to UBC, and for all the contributions you will make beyond these doors as a result of your time here.

To the graduating class of 2009, my thanks, and my warmest congratulations!

Stephen J. Toope
President and Vice-Chancellor

Elders, Chiefs, Board of Governors, dignitaries, UBC Okanagan faculty, staff, family, friends, visitors, students and graduates, on behalf of the Okanagan Nation Chiefs and our member communities we welcome you to our beautiful territory and to the UBC Okanagan Spring Convocation 2009. We are pleased to be provided this opportunity to extend our congratulations to all the new graduates of UBC Okanagan. We are honoured to be part of your Convocation. Ceremony and recognition of achievement, and the meaning inherent in special events like this one, have always been an integral part of syilx culture, beliefs and customs. Learning has always been fundamental to the well-being and survival of our communities. Okanagan people valued life-long learning. Education and academic excellence are also a part of syilx culture. The honouring of one's intellect and knowledge has always been important.

The Okanagan traditions and ceremonies awarded achievement no matter how big or small. Announcements were made to the Nation that "this is a day of significance to this person, (family and/or community) and you are all welcome to share in this celebration." The Okanagan shared their land, their teaching, and their culture with others and now as graduates, you too will have this opportunity to share your education with the community. Your educational attainment will serve you well, especially if you use it to serve your communities! The Okanagan Nation Alliance and UBC Okanagan have forged a new path of partnership and inclusion so that we can all learn to embrace, strengthen and celebrate our diversity. The pursuit of academic excellence will continue to advance and transform our societies. Okanagan participation in today's convocation ceremony and within this University bodes well for our future and our communities.

UBC TRADITIONS

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The wearing of academic costume is a tradition that has persisted from the Middle Ages, when the first Universities were founded. The regalia vary slightly from one University to another, and within a University, according to the status of the wearer. At the University of British Columbia, the undergraduate's and Master's gowns are black.

The colours for the degrees being granted in 2009 at UBC Okanagan are as follows:

Ph.D.- Gown- Maroon with front panel and sleeves of University blue with gold piping; Hood- Blue silk outside with gold lining; Hat- Decanel bonnet of maroon silk with gold cord and tassel.

- B.A. – University blue
- B.Ed. – White with University blue cord
- B.F.A. – University blue with magenta cord
- B.Mgt – Light grey with a black and gold cord
- B.S.N. – Scarlet with University blue and white twisted cord
- B.S.W. – Magenta
- B.Sc. – Light blue
- M.A. – Fully lined University blue
- M.A.Sc. – Fully lined scarlet
- M.Ed. – Fully lined white with University blue cord
- M.F.A. – Fully lined University blue with magenta cord
- M.S.N. – Fully lined scarlet with blue and white cord
- M.S.W. – Fully lined magenta
- M.Sc. – Fully lined light blue

The Bachelor's hood is edged with the distinctive colour. The Master's hood is the same as the Bachelor's, except that it is lined with the distinctive colour.

The regalia of the Ph.D. consists of a gown, Cambridge style, of maroon silk with front-facing panel and sleeves of University blue with gold piping; a hood, Cambridge pattern, of blue silk outside and gold lining; a cap, decanal bonnet, of maroon silk with gold cord and tassel.

The hood for the honorary degree LL.D. is of scarlet broadcloth lined in dark blue velvet; for the D.Sc., it is lined in dark purple and for the D.Litt., it is lined in cream.

CONGREGATION OR CONVOCATION?

People often ask why UBC calls its graduation ceremonies "Congregation." There are no records to say why this term was originally adopted but it has been used by UBC since its first graduation ceremonies in 1916 and is believed to originate from its use in English institutions such as Oxford and Cambridge. According to Wikipedia, "a congregation is an assembly of people for a given purpose; with respect to a university, it is a formal meeting of senior members of the University. Examples include the Regent House in the University of Cambridge and the House of Congregation and the Ancient House of Congregation in the University of Oxford. Stemming from this tradition, in some universities a graduation ceremony is known as a congregation, even if the ceremony is not a meeting of the university's governing body in the traditional sense."

For whatever reason, UBC adopted this term for its graduation ceremonies in 1916 and has used it ever since when inviting faculty, students and guests to the Annual and more recently the Spring and Fall graduation ceremonies. UBC is unique amongst Canadian institutions in that it appears to be the only institution that still uses this term.

The term 'Convocation' at UBC is more often used to describe a group of people – defined by the University Act – including the Chancellor, President, members of the Senate, all faculty members and all graduates of the University. The Convocation, through the Chancellor who serves as its chair, confers degrees, including honorary degrees, and awards diplomas and certificates of proficiency.

In Fall 2007, UBC Vancouver Senate reconfirmed its preference to maintain the tradition of using the term 'Congregation' for its graduation ceremonies. In Spring 2008, the UBC Okanagan Senate passed a motion that "Convocation be adopted as the name for meetings of the UBC convocation held at UBC Okanagan for the purposes of conferring degrees, effective June 2008."

Did you know...?

- UBC's first Congregation ceremony took place on May 4, 1916 in the Hotel Vancouver ballroom. There were 41 graduates.
- UBC's first graduate degrees were conferred in 1919.
- The first Congregation ceremony on the Point Grey campus was held in 1927.
- The first graduation ceremony was held at UBC Okanagan on June 9, 2006.
- The first graduate degrees were conferred at UBC Okanagan on June 6, 2008.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University Mace is a symbol of the authority of the UBC Chancellor. It is displayed on ceremonial occasions, most notably during the Convocation ceremonies but also during the Installation of a President or Chancellor.

The Mace is carried by the 'Macebearer' who leads the Platform Party, which includes the Chancellor, the President and other dignitaries, onto the stage for the Convocation ceremonies. This year, for the first time, UBC Okanagan is displaying its own University Mace, created by First Nations artist Sheldon Louis of the Okanagan Indian Band.

Carved from a single piece of alder wood, the University Mace combines Okanagan Nation traditions with university customs. The main art work on the Mace features three symbolic spirit icons -- a mother bear with her two cubs, the image of the mountains, and water -- given to UBC Okanagan in 2005 by the Okanagan Nation elders. The spirit icon gifts were selected by a group of First Nation elders, led by Andrew McGinnis, an Okanagan Traditional Medicine Keeper from the Penticton Indian Band, and Victor Antoine, an elder of the Okanagan Indian Band. Each spirit icon was chosen carefully for its special significance to the region, reflecting local Okanagan Nation tradition, culture and knowledge.

The Mace also features a number of University symbols, including the UBC Okanagan logo, the University coat of arms and the UBC motto Tuum Est -- It's Yours. In addition, the back of the Mace displays the word Suknaqinx, which is of the Nsyilxcen language, spoken by Okanagan's original people. Roughly translated, it means "the ones who stand on the hill and are seen and heard from far away."

The University Mace, which was carved in the shape of a paddle, representing the importance of Okanagan Lake to the region's people, is also inlaid with silver, applied by First Nation silversmith artist Justin Terbasket of the Lower Similkameen Indian Band.

THE CHANCELLOR'S OKANAGAN CHAIR

In 2007, UBC Okanagan commissioned the creation of a new Chancellor's chair for use in Okanagan Convocation ceremonies. Handcrafted by master furniture maker Dennis Weidman of Lake Country, B.C., the chair was fashioned from cherry wood, a species selected for its significance in the Okanagan's long history as a fruit-growing region.

The chair's front panel features UBC's motto, Tuum Est, the UBC Okanagan logo laser engraved in the headrest panel, and UBC's coat of arms on each side panel.

O CANADA

O Canada! Our home and native land,
True patriot love in all thy sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The true north strong and free!
From far and wide, O Canada,
We stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

OKANAGAN SONG

The Okanagan Song is based on a traditional song style called skəlmxqin. Skəlmxqin songs belong to the Okanagan/Syilx people collectively. Songs of this style can be sung by any Okanagan/Syilx person using their own phrasing and their own emotion while maintaining the formal rhythm and structure. This song has been called the "Okanagan Song" or the "Okanagan Nation Anthem" because the phrasing and meaning were constructed to celebrate pride in being Okanagan.

Translation of suknaqinx skəlmxqinx

Note: the word a4i translates three separate ways in this song.

A4i kʷu swi wi numtax
(given that we are good-looking/vibrant/strong)

A4i kʷu suknaqinx
(due to being Okanagan)

A4i axa? i? tmxʷula?xʷ
(because of this land)

Literation/meaning

UBC'S IMPORTANT HISTORICAL MOMENTS

The following list reflects important historical moments in UBC's history:

1908

- Provincial legislature passes a new "University Act" establishing The University of British Columbia. It provides for a Chancellor, a Convocation, a President, and a Board of Governors to manage the university's administration, property and business affairs, and a Senate to administer academic matters.

1910

- After a province-wide survey, Point Grey is selected as the site of UBC's new campus.

1913

- Dr. Frank Fairchild Wesbrook appointed first President of UBC.

1915

- The University of British Columbia opens in temporary headquarters at the former MUCBC facilities (nicknamed the "Fairview Shacks" after the surrounding neighbourhood) adjacent to Vancouver General Hospital. There are three faculties: Arts and Science, Applied Science and Agriculture. Student enrolment in September is 379 and total number of full- and part-time faculty is 34.

1922

- Tired of over-crowded conditions and inadequate facilities, UBC students launch a campaign known as "Build the University" to resume construction at the Point Grey campus. With 56,000 names on a petition for the government, 1,200 students with floats, bands and banners march through the streets of downtown Vancouver to the Point Grey campus. This pilgrimage became known as the "Great Trek," as it successfully convinced the Government of B.C. to resume work on the Point Grey site. The "Great Trek" represents one of the greatest efforts of an undergraduate student body in support of its university and still reflects the spirit and pride of UBC students.

1925

- UBC moves to Point Grey campus.

1940

- Students contribute to the construction of Brock Hall, the university's first student union building.

UBC students march through the streets of Vancouver in the "Great Trek" of 1922.

THE GIFT OF LEARNING

Learning is a lifelong journey that transcends the classroom or the lab. For some, the most powerful lessons gleaned from their time at UBC Okanagan are about belonging and being a contributing member of a community. That doesn't end at graduation.

UBC Okanagan's vision is to provide students, faculty, and staff with an intimate learning environment in which innovation, technology, and community play key roles in the pursuit of knowledge.

The realization of this vision would not be possible without the generosity of alumni and friends of the University. Donations to UBC Okanagan ensure that today's students and tomorrow's leaders have the best education and research opportunities possible, creating a vibrant and healthy future for us all.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOMPLISHMENTS & CONTRIBUTIONS

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Prominent in the professions and the community, honorary degree recipients are recognized for their distinguished achievements in their respective endeavours and for the contributions their accomplishments make to the life of the University and the betterment of society. These degrees will be awarded during Spring Convocation.

LISA STEELE AND KIM TOMCZAK

Doctor of Letters, honoris causa

Lisa Steele and Kim Tomczak are two of Canada's foremost video and new media artists.

Ms. Steele and Mr. Tomczak are both professors at the University of Toronto recognized around the world for their artistic achievements, and applauded here at home for their commitment to art education and Canada's video art community.

They have had a profound influence on artistic practice and arts education in Canada. Among their influential endeavours, in 1980 they founded Vtape, an artist-run distribution centre for video art to promote the growth of the video medium as a recognized art form.

Their ongoing commitment to their artistic practice has established Ms. Steele and Mr. Tomczak as international artists of the highest regard and leaders in the field. Through their efforts in curating the work of emerging and established video and new media artists, and through their substantial critical writing in the field, they have contributed to the development of video and new media in Canada and around the world.

DR. J. PETER MEEKISON

Doctor of Laws, honoris causa

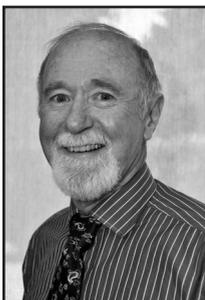

Dr. J. Peter Meekison is widely known as the dean of Canadian federalism and an expert on Canadian federal-provincial relations and constitutional policy. He was the author of a proposal for the constitutional amending formula that was incorporated into Canada's Constitution Act of 1981.

He served as Vice President, Academic, at the University of Alberta, and was involved on behalf of the Alberta government in both the 1987 Meech Lake Accord discussions and the 1992 Charlottetown Accord process. In 1993, Dr. Meekison was appointed to lead the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples.

Dr. Meekison was appointed as the public administrator for Okanagan University College and in 2004 and 2005 he oversaw the transition of that institution into two new post-secondary institutions - Okanagan College and UBC Okanagan.

UBC OKANAGAN AWARD FOR TEACHING EXCELLENCE AND INNOVATION

DR. MAURICE WILLIAMS

The creativity and passion that Dr. Maurice Williams brings into his teaching role at UBC Okanagan is truly inspiring. An associate professor of history, he goes above and beyond expectations to deliver courses that both engage and challenge his students.

Dr. Williams introduced summer field courses as part of his Myra Canyon research project, demonstrating his interdisciplinary approach to teaching through a unique combination of teaching, research and service to the community.

DR. STEPHEN MCNEIL

Dr. Stephen McNeil, assistant professor of chemistry, is known for creating a student-centered learning environment, where he dedicates time and effort to empower his students and inspire them to become critical thinkers.

His approach to teaching is innovative and dynamic, and he has played a very important role in curriculum development, creating undergraduate and graduate inorganic chemistry courses for the benefit of UBC Okanagan students.
