SPRING CONVOCATION
2014

JUNE 5 & 6

TUUM EST

Dear Graduated,

Your graduation began long before this day.

It began when you made the choice to study that extra hour, dedicate yourself more deeply, and strive to reach for the degree you had chosen to fully commit your life to pursuing.

Many of the people that helped you arrive here today are seated beside you—friends, family, classmates—while others are thinking of you from afar.

We are honoured to have given you a place to discover, inspire others and be challenged beyond what you thought was possible.

We hope you know, we will always be that place for you.

Yours,

UBC

The UBC graduation journey has been forged by the spirit of the university's motto, Tuum Est, (meaning 'it is yours') since 1915. Today, you, the graduating class of 2014, now shape UBC's history by making it your own.

1916

The first graduating class pictured here at the Fairview campus located near Vancouver General Hospital. In UBC's first year, there were only three faculties: Arts, Applied Science and Agriculture with 379 registered students and 34 faculty members.

1920s

The twenties saw the student-led Great Trek to claim UBC's Point Grey campus and establish the university as a place of mind for students the world over. The AMS incorporated as a non-profit society and the university began awarding its first graduate degrees to students. In the Ubyyssey, published in September 23, 1925, students described the new campus with a sense of wonder: "We are dazed with the appearance of architectural cleanliness and bewildered by our lineal freedom."

1940s

The forties were an era of tremendous change at the university as both students and faculty embraced the war effort. In 1943, new President Norman Mackenzie began in earnest to expand the university and new departments were formed along with new buildings to house them including Brock Hall, the first student union building. By the 1950's, UBC had established itself as a comprehensive university and top choice for students in BC and beyond.

2014

There are 11,700 students that will become the Class of 2014. They will go on to join the over 300,000 alumni who have successfully graduated from UBC and continue their journey as treasured members of the UBC community.

1960s

Student numbers continued to escalate alongside the scholarly activities that began to define UBC as a leader in research. The campus was alive with sixties counterculture and a sixth president of UBC was elected by the name of Dr. Walter Gage. New student residences were created to respond to the expanding student body as well as a new student union building. Students gain influence at the university and are elected to the University Board of Governors for the first time.

1980s

With over 34,000 students registered at the beginning of the eighties, UBC began attracting scholars from all over the world. Engineering students were in the news frequently for their pranks, which included the famous Ladner Clock Tower stunt in which students pulled off hoisting a white Volkswagen Bug onto the top of the tower. Dr. Martha Piper was elected President in 1997 and ushered in an era of international engagement that saw UBC step onto the world stage as an educator and global centre for research excellence.

2000s

The demand for increased access to post-secondary education led to the official opening of UBC's Okanagan campus in 2005. Student learning opportunities multiplied as UBC expanded to include two major campuses - the Vancouver Campus and the Okanagan Campus.

The University Mace is a symbol of the authority of the Chancellor. It is displayed on ceremonial occasions, most notably during the convocation ceremonies but also during the Installation of a President or Chancellor.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The Mace is carried by the 'Macebearer' who leads the Platform Party, which includes the Chancellor, the President and other dignitaries, onto the stage for the Convocation ceremonies.

Created by First Nations artist Sheldon Louis of the Okanagan Indian Band, the University Mace is carved from a single piece of alder wood, and combines Okanagan Nation traditions with university customs. The main art work on the Mace features three symbolic spirit icons—a mother bear with her two cubs, the image of the mountains, and water — given to UBC Okanagan in 2005 by the Okanagan Nation elders. The spirit icon gifts were selected by a group of First Nation elders, led by Andrew McGinnis, an Okanagan Traditional Medicine Keeper from the Penticton Indian Band, and Victor Antoine, an elder of the Okanagan Indian Band. Each spirit icon was chosen carefully for its special significance to the region, reflecting local Okanagan Nation tradition, culture and knowledge.

The Mace also features a number of university symbols, including the UBC Okanagan logo, the University coat of arms and the UBC motto Tuum Est – It's Yours. In addition, the back of the Mace displays the word Suknaqinx, which is of the Nsyilxcen language, spoken by the Okanagan's original people. Roughly translated, it means "the ones who stand on the hill and are seen and heard from far away."

The University Mace, which was carved in the shape of a paddle, representing the importance of Okanagan Lake to the region's people, is also inlaid with silver, applied by First Nations silversmith artist Justin Terbasket of the Lower Similkameen Indian Band. The Mace was used for the first time at the 2009 Convocation Ceremonies.

THE PROCESSION

Chancellor Sarah Morgan-Silvester shakes the hand of every student that crosses the stage—that's over 8,000 students each year. This handshake signifies the transition between student and graduate.

REGALIA COLOURS

The hoods, gowns and hats worn by graduates are lined with colours to indicate the degree to be conferred, a tradition dating back to the Middle Ages when the first universities were founded.

THE CHANCELLOR'S OKANAGAN CHAIR

In 2007, UBC's Okanagan campus commissioned the creation of a new Chancellor's chair for use in Okanagan Convocation ceremonies. Handcrafted by master furniture maker Dennis Weidman of Lake Country, B.C., the chair was fashioned from cherry wood, a species selected for its significance in the Okanagan's long history as a fruit-growing region.

The chair's front panel features UBC's motto, Tuum Est, the UBC logo laser engraved in the headrest panel, and UBC's coat of arms on each side panel.

You have demonstrated excellence in your chosen academic fields, prowess on the sport's fields and made important contributions to the university community as a whole.

Warmest congratulations!

It is indeed an honour to take part in celebrating the many accomplishments of UBC students. You have demonstrated excellence in your chosen academic fields, prowess on the sport's fields and made important contributions to the university community as a whole. For this reason, I like to think of your convocation ceremony as an acknowledgement of all your successes—academic, athletic and volunteer service to your community. The importance of volunteer service as a means to build communities, in particular, needs to be highlighted. Organizations such as UBC simply could not function without volunteer support. Students who volunteer fill important roles in student government and university governance, as peer mentors and counselors, and in improving the wellbeing of their broader community. The members of the UBC Board of Governors, the Senates, the Board of the Alumni Association, the Dean's Advisory Councils are all volunteers; as is my own position, as Chancellor.

As a UBC graduate, you are part of an alumni group that is now over 300,000 strong, and one that includes leaders in every field of endeavor, and upon whom the future well-being of our communities, province and nation will in large measure depend. By engaging in meaningful volunteer activity, you will not only further strengthen your capabilities, you will more thoroughly define the uniqueness of your character, and discover a new and lasting sense of fulfillment. I know that many of you have already had rewarding volunteer experiences while pursuing your education or are actively looking for a suitable volunteer opportunity in an area of professional or personal interest. I applaud your efforts!

There is much demand on the horizon for people like you who have demonstrated the intelligence, discipline and resourcefulness required to complete degree requirements of one of the world's most respected universities. With increasing frequency, we are witnessing how societies and leadership communities around the world are unable to keep pace with an evermore complex world. There has never been a greater need for skilled humanitarians to participate in social sector organizations, particularly by assuming the mantle of leadership.

Indeed, the needs are vast in range, from healthcare and education, to environmental sustainability, to human rights and social justice.

It is with these thoughts in mind that I encourage you to live joyously, work hard and lend a hand to others. I assure you the rewards are truly remarkable. As for this transformational day, the entire university community applauds you on your accomplishments and celebrates with you, and we hope that you will cherish the knowledge that UBC is—and will forever be—your university.

Tuum est!

— SARAH MORGAN-SILVESTER

TUUM EST

TUUM EST

TUUM EST

The game begins on a sand dune in the middle of what appears to be an endless desert. In the distance, a forbidding mountain looms, its peak split by a glowing crevice.

Wordlessly, heeding a call from deep within, your character moves toward the mountain, discovering remnants of lost civilizations along the way, coming upon benevolent guides, and traveling for a time with strangers who offer help and accept yours in return. Once safely at the base of the mountain, you and your companions begin to climb, fighting cold, deep snow, and high winds on your ascent. At one point, you sink to the ground, too weary to carry on. Death seems imminent. Then, as if by magic, an assemblage of guides appears and they fill you with pure life force energy. Renewed, you continue to the summit and walk fearlessly into the crevice. A shooting star arcs overhead, announcing your success to watchers below. Slowly, you descend, the star's trajectory marking your path, and as you make your way back to your tribe, prepared to share the inner strengths you've found in overcoming every obstacle, you pass other robed travelers on their way to the mountain's base. Home, you offer your gifts to anyone in need, until that irresistible call sounds and you set out once again.

Journey. An independent video game created by Thatgamecompany for Sony and released last year. Over three years in development and responsible for driving the developer nearly to bankruptcy. And then...the fastest selling PlayStation game ever in both North America and Europe. Critically and commercially successful worldwide. Winner of 23 international awards and nominated for 10 more, including the 2013 Grammy for Best Score Soundtrack for Visual Media.

Why?

Because they got it right. We recognize the metaphor of the journey as the story of our lives. The developers deliberately followed world mythologist Joseph Campbell's theory of narrative—known as the Hero's journey—in creating the story arc, and it's a pattern Campbell claimed is embedded in the collective unconscious of all of humanity. The game's profound appeal may even lie in the fact that they got it more right than we've managed as a species so far: Players can help each other, but not hinder another's progress. Connections are formed not through words or battles but by exploring the world in partnership. According to designer Jenova Chen, going beyond the "typical defeat/kill/win mentality" of most video games was Journey's foundational intention.

For the past number of years, you have played the character of Student. You have met many other travelers along the way, some of whom have become Friends, all of whom have altered the course of your Journey. With the help of your Guides, you have learned to turn your innate intelligence toward the beginnings of wisdom; your enormous energy toward discipline; your intellectual skills toward an independence of thought; your curiosity toward a deep respect for diversity; and your individuality toward the possibilities of interdependence.

You have come to embody the university's mission: learn/discover/contribute—a clear echo of the Hero's journey—and it is this mentality you carry out into the world today as Graduate.

When enough of you do so, it changes the Game.

— STEPHEN J. TOOPE

The Okanagan Nation Alliance welcomes the University of British Columbia's new Graduates, their families and friends to the 2014 Annual Spring Convocation.

Elders, Chiefs, Board of Governors, dignitaries, Okanagan faculty, staff, family, friends, visitors, students and graduates, on behalf of the Okanagan Nation Chiefs and our member communities we welcome you to our beautiful territory and to UBC's Okanagan Campus Spring Convocation 2014. We are pleased to be provided this opportunity to extend our congratulations to all the new Okanagan graduates of UBC. We are honoured to be part of your Convocation Ceremony and recognition of achievement, and the meaning inherent in special events like this one, have always been an integral part of syilx culture, beliefs and customs. Learning has always been fundamental to the well-being and survival of our communities, Okanagan people valued life-long learning. Education and academic excellence are also a part of syilx culture. The honoring of one's intellect and knowledge has always been important. The syilx traditions and ceremonies awarded achievement no matter how big or small. Announcements were made to the Nation that "this is a day of significance to this person, (family and/or community) and you are all welcome to share in this celebration". The Okanagan shared their land, their teaching, and their culture with others and now as graduates, you too will have this opportunity to share your education with the community. Your educational attainment will serve you well, especially if you use it to serve your communities! The Okanagan Nation Alliance and UBC have forged a new path of partnership and inclusion so that we can all learn to embrace, strengthen and celebrate our diversity. The pursuit of academic excellence will continue to advance and transform our societies. Okanagan participation in today's convocation ceremony and within this University bodes well for our future and our communities.

We are beautiful / Because we are Okanagan /
Because our land is beautiful.

The Okanagan Song is based on a traditional song style called skəlmxqin. Skəlmxqin songs belong to the Okanagan/Syilx people collectively. Songs of this style can be sung by any Okanagan/Syilx person using their own phrasing and their own emotion while maintaining the formal rhythm and structure. This song has been called the "Okanagan Song" or the "Okanagan Nation Anthem" because the phrasing and meaning were constructed to celebrate pride in being Okanagan.

Translation of suknaqinx skəlmxqinx

Note: the word aʔi translates three separate ways in this song.

Aʔi kʷu swi wi numtax

(given that we are good-looking/vibrant/strong)

Aʔi kʷu suknaqinx

(due to being Okanagan)

Aʔi axaʔ iʔ tmxʷulaʔxʷ

(because of this land)

Literation/meaning

We are beautiful

Because we are Okanagan

Because our land is beautiful

UBC BOARD OF GOVERNORS

UBC's 21-member Board of Governors comprises the chancellor, the president, eleven persons appointed by the lieutenant-governor, three faculty members elected by faculty, three full-time students elected by students and two people elected by and from the full-time employees of the university who are not faculty members.

By legislation, the board is responsible for the management, administration and control of the property, revenue, business and affairs of the university including the appointment of senior officials and faculty on the recommendation of the president. The governors represent diverse backgrounds, which provide valuable input during board deliberations.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOMPLISHMENTS & CONTRIBUTIONS

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

JACK W. SZOSTAK

Doctor of Science, honoris causa

Dr. Szostak's ground-breaking explorations in cell biology and genetics have had a profound effect across the life sciences. Indeed, they have changed our understanding of life itself.

Among his many achievements is the discovery that cells build and maintain telomeres, the protective caps at the tips of chromosomes, by using a special DNA synthesizing enzyme now known as telomerase.

Understanding telomerase is one key to understanding how cells and organisms age. It's critical to understanding the biology of cancer cells, for example, and has given us a more complete view of the processes that affect our lifespans.

In 2009, recognizing his exceptional work in this field, Dr. Szostak received the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine, along with research colleagues Elizabeth Blackburn and Carol Greider.

Dr. Szostak was born in 1952 in the United Kingdom and grew up in Canada. He studied at McGill University in Montreal and at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, where he received his Ph.D. in 1977.

He has been at Harvard Medical School since 1979 and is currently professor of genetics there, and professor of chemistry and chemical biology at Harvard University. He is also affiliated with the Howard Hughes Medical Institute.

His contributions at the forefront of science continue as he and his research team today explore the molecular origins of life—seeking to understand how complex chemicals on a very young planet Earth were able to self-assemble and combine to form simple organisms capable of reproducing and evolving.

AWARD FOR TEACHING EXCELLENCE AND INNOVATION

SENIOR FACULTY AWARD

Dr. Susan Crichton

Associate Professor, Faculty of Education

Dr. Crichton has made substantial contributions to teaching excellence within the faculty, across our campus, and around the world. She has been a leader in designing the Innovative Learning Centre, and leads collaboration with Okanagan College and School District 23 to consider effective ways to recruit and educate students to become trades and technology teachers. She is an internationally recognized authority on applying technology to enhance learning in diverse and challenging contexts. This expertise is shared here at home, and through her role as visiting scholar at the Institute of Educational Development at Aga Kahn University in Tanzania and in Pakistan.

JUNIOR FACULTY AWARD

Dr. Mina Hoorfar

Associate Professor, School of Engineering, Faculty of Applied Sciences

Dr. Hoorfar is regarded by her colleagues and students as a truly remarkable educator. She has been on the Teaching Honour Roll for the past four consecutive years. First- and second-year Engineering students recognized her excellence with the Pioneer Award for Teaching in 2007, and senior students recognized her with the Mechanical Engineering Teacher of the Year Award in both 2012 and 2013. She sets high standards for teaching and research, and has created an environment in which her students are encouraged to learn and grow both in their research skills and professional development.

PRESIDENT'S SERVICE AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE

The President's Service Award for Excellence is one of the highest honours a UBC staff member can receive. This award recognizes those individuals who go above and beyond the call of duty - whose efforts make a difference to both the University and campus life. Recipients of this prestigious award received a gold medal and $5,000.

O CANADA

O Canada
Our home and native land!
True patriot love in all thy sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The True North strong and free!
From far and wide,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

Welcome, Class of 2014 to your new and honoured place in the UBC community. Today we celebrate all you have worked for, achieved and contributed to the UBC community during your time as a student—and the promise of your future.

Many students don't realize that when you graduate from UBC, you automatically become a member of alumni UBC and your relationship with the University enters a whole new phase.

You might be surprised at just who your fellow alumni are, and their levels of accomplishment, influence and contribution to society. No matter where you go, you will find yourself in the company of amazing people who are making a real difference in the world – educators, artists, doctors, nurses, business and community leaders—UBC grads who will be your role models, mentors, colleagues and friends.

We'll help you connect through our newsletters, web pages and social networks. You will receive a warm welcome at mentoring, cultural, educational and career-building events, whether you stay here or go anywhere else in the world. You can get involved in alumni networks as far away as London and Seoul or as close as Vancouver, Calgary or Toronto.

You can also help start an evolution through investment in UBC.

This can be as simple as volunteering at UBC, or as generous as you or your family making a donation. We invite you to get involved and combine your energy with ours. It's your chance to support thinking that can change the world. To find out more about how you can get involved, go to startanevolution.ca.

This is a special time to become part of alumni UBC as the Robert H. Lee Alumni Centre on our Vancouver campus will be opening in 2015. The first of its kind in Canada, the centre will become a permanent home for alumni like you to connect, collaborate and learn.

UBC acknowledges your important place in our community. Worldwide, there are now more than 300,000 graduates. That's a powerful network you can leverage to build your life and make a difference. Together, we represent a significant and positive force. Remember our motto, Tuum Est - it's yours. UBC is still yours. It will always be.

So reach out. Stay in touch. Ask for help when you need it. Lend a hand when you can. Work together and you will find that everything is possible.
